PROBIOTIC LIVESTOCK AND PET SUPPLEMENT

SCD Bio Livestock® is an all-natural, probiotic feed and water additive containing a powerful blend of beneficial bacteria.

SCD Bio Livestock improves the underlying microbial ecology of the animal to one that is balanced and healthy. With consistent usage, it may help to reduce the re-emergence of disease-causing or harmful toxic bacteria.

Based on the principles of beneficial microorganism applied science developed in Japan over 30 years ago, SCD Probiotics Technology offers an increasingly effective product for improved livestock and pet health.

Use SCD Bio Livestock as:

- Feed and Water Additive for Livestock, Poultry and Horses
- Topical Application for Healthy Skin
- Probiotic Supplement for Household Pets

Benefits of Bio Livestock:

- Increases livestock production
- May reduce the need for pharmaceutical antibiotics
- Strengthens the immune system of household pets
- Concentrated formula provides cost-effective solutions
- Available in "tote" quantities for large-scale operations
- Proven results (contact customerservice@SCDProbiotics.com for field results)

SCD Bio Livestock is produced through a natural fermentation process, and is not chemically synthesized or genetically engineered or modified.

How Probiotics Help Improve Animal Health

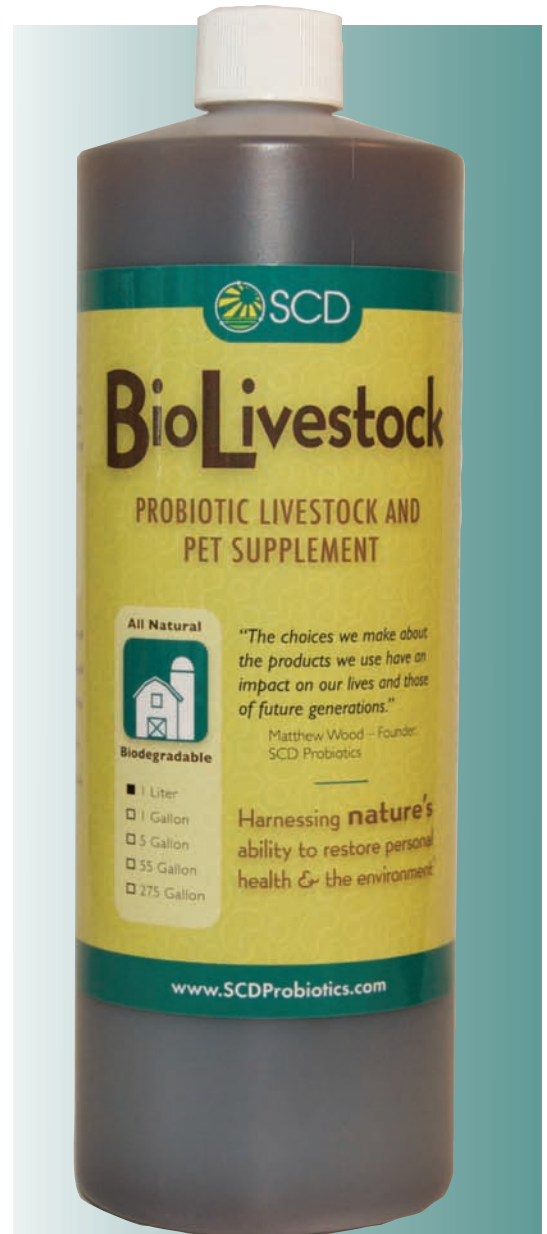

All living systems – including animals – have a microbial ecology that can be managed and improved by the constant delivery of probiotics. Probiotics are live microorganisms that, when applied in sufficient amounts, deliver a health benefit to the host.

Unlike antibiotics, which act to kill the bad bacteria (and with it, many of the good bacteria as well), probiotics repopulate the environment with healthy microbes. As a liquid probiotic additive in the food or water source, SCD Bio Livestock works to restore the healthy balance of bacteria in animals.
