

ALL SEASONS BOKASHI™

All Seasons Bokashi™

All Seasons Bokashi™ Bokashi is an all-natural compost starter which can be used in conjunction with the All Seasons Indoor Composter® to conveniently recycle food waste right in your kitchen. First developed by ancient Japanese farmers, the recipe has been passed down through the centuries.

All Seasons Bokashi™ helps with the breakdown of the waste into compost. Breakdown of the waste will occur after it has been transferred to the soil (in approximately two weeks to two months - depending on the climate and soil conditions).

All Seasons Bokashi controls odor normally associated with food decay, allowing you to conveniently start the composting process after every meal. A sweet, pungent aroma in the composter is a good sign that the All Seasons Bokashi™ is working, and the food waste is beginning to compost.

All Seasons Bokashi is used in recycling food waste.

All Seasons Bokashi is used as:

- Compost starter in home composting efforts
- Compost starter in large-scale composting operations
